And the best part… it's free!

The files made by Obsidian are in a format you can use in other apps and programs, meaning you don't get locked into one app.

- Obsidian also offers a paid syncing subscription for $3-10 per month, allowing for extra convenience.
- The cloud storage you (likely) already pay for works just the same, and the documents aren't locked into the Obsidian app or service.
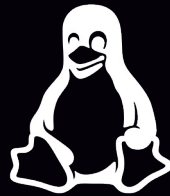

⍰ Did you know?

Microsoft makes money by locking users into expensive subscriptions using this technique. By creating proprietary formats for documents, it makes it harder for people to use the documents outside of a Microsoft product. Using Obsidian for documents can not only save you time, but also money and stress.
